Employment

Jesse H. Jones Graduate School of Business, Rice University
Assistant Professor of Operations Management, 2022 -

Education

Ph.D. in Operations Research, Stanford University, 2016 - 2022
B.S. in Mathematics, Bilkent University, 2012 - 2016

Research Interests

Market design, matching theory, applied probability

Research

1. On the Optimality of Greedy Policies in Dynamic Matching, with Itai Ashlagi and Itai Gurvich, Major Revision at Operations Research.
 - ◇ Extended abstract appeared in the 23rd ACM Conference on Economics and Computation (EC 2022)
2. Dynamic Matching: Characterizing and Achieving Constant Regret, with Itai Ashlagi and Itai Gurvich, Major Revision at Management Science.
3. Scrip Systems with Minimal Availability, with Itai Ashlagi, working paper.
 - ◇ Extended abstract appeared in the 15th Conference on Web and Internet Economics (WINE 2019).

Teaching

Teaching Assistant

Stanford University

MS&E 220: Probabilistic Analysis, Summer 2019

MS&E 232: Introduction to Game Theory and Market Design, Winter 2019

MS&E 260: Introduction to Operations Management, Autumn 2017, Autumn 2018, Winter 2020

Bilkent University

MATH 102: Calculus II, Spring 2015, Spring 2016

MATH 132: Discrete and Combinatorial Mathematics, Summer 2015

MATH 225: Linear Algebra and Differential Equations, Summer 2014

Honors and Awards

Jerome Kaseberg Doolan Fellowship, 2020

Nakagawa Special Steel-Mitani Fellowship, 2019

Stanford MS&E Fellowship, 2016-2018

Orhan Alisbah Fellowship, 2015

Talks

2022 INFORMS Annual Meeting, Indianapolis, IN, USA, October 2022

The 23rd ACM Conference on Economics and Computation (EC 2022), July 2022
